Art Unit: 2764

DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1 and 2 has been cancelled as requested by applicant.
2. Claims 3-22 have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371© of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

4. Claims 9-11, 13, 15, 19, 21 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Brandenburg U.S.Patent No. 5,894,516.
5. As per claims 10, 15, 19 and 21, Brandenburg teach applying a unique software key to each one of receiving electronic unit; encrypting software code as a function of a single software key; transmitting the encrypted software code from said transmitting electronic unit over communication link to one or more receiving electronic units (see col. 1 lines 60-67); decrypting transmitted encrypted software code at the receiving unit according to the software key used to encrypt the software code and the unique software keys applied to the receiving units (see col. 2 lines 1-5).

6. As per claim 22, Brandenburg teach transmitting an upload program with the encrypted software code and decrypting transmitted encrypted software code according the transmitted upload program (see col.2 lines 60-65).

7. As per claim 13, Brandenburg teach electronic unit each having a unique software key; encrypting software as a function of the unique software key of the receiving unit; transmitting encrypted software over communication link (see col. 1 lines 60-67 and col. 2 line 1); uploading encrypted software into the electronic unit with unique software key that matches the unique software key (see col. 2 lines 60-65).

8. As per claims 9 and 11, Brandenburg teach header but does not explicitly disclose footer tag that include unique software key. However, this feature is deemed to be inherent for encrypted message to include code to indicate whether the message is encrypted or not and to compare the unique software key to the key in the footer or header to determine if it matches .

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2764

10. Claims 3-8, 12, 14, 16-18 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brandenburg U.S. Patent No. 5,894,516, and further in view of Teare et al. U.S. Patent No. 5,243,652.

11. As per claims 3, 4, 12, 14 and 20 Brandenburg does not explicitly disclose global positioning system unit with unique software key and topographical data. Teare et al. discloses the use of global positioning system unit with unique location history used for topographical data (see column 3 lines 4-9 and 30-36). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to combine Brandenburg invention with Teare et al. invention in order to determine locations.

12. As per claims 6 and 17 Brandenburg does not specifically disclose unique key initially used as a seed for encrypting software. However official notice is taken that using key as a seed for encryption is old and well known in the art of ciphers. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to generate a keystream using the unique key as a seed in order to encrypt the software.

13. As per claims 7, 8 and 18, Brandenburg does not disclose wired or Internet link. However official notice is taken that wired or Internet link is old and well known in the art of communication link. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to implement wired or Internet as transmission medium which is a readily available link.

14. As per claims 5 and 16, Brandenburg does not disclose cyclic redundancy coding. However official notice is taken that cyclic redundancy coding is old and well known in the art of error detection . It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to implement cyclic redundancy coding in order to detect transmission errors.

Response to Argument

15. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

16. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
